

RE: ICC Reports for CA-C Preserve® and TimberSaver® Borate treated wood

To Whom It May Concern,

We do not have an ICC ESR for CA-C Preserve and TimberSaver Borate treated wood. The simple reason is that an ICC ESR is just not needed or required for our CA-C and Borate preservative products because if treated wood has been treated to American Wood Protection Association (AWPA) standards, the material meets the applicable building code requirements. CA-C, and Borate treated wood meets the codes without an ICC ESR. An ICC ESR would simply be a duplication of current practices and results.

Below are some important points to consider regarding wood pressure treated with CA-C and Borates:

- CA-C and Borate preservatives meet the current requirements of the AWPA P26-P29, P48, and P25 standards respectively.
- CA-C and Borate pressure treated wood is produced to the exacting standards of the American Wood Protection Association;
 - Standard U1-11, Use Categories UC1, UC2, UC3 (CA-C only), and UC4 (CA-C only)
 - M2 Standard for Inspection of Wood Products Treated with Preservatives.
 - M4 Standard for Care of Preservative-Treated Wood Products..
- CA-C, and Borates meet the AWPA Standards mandated in sections 2303.1.8 and 2304.11.2 of the International Building Code (IBC), and sections 2303.1.8 and 2304.11.2 of the current California Building Code.
- Numerous field studies and decades of use have shown that material treated to the AWPA standards will provide wood structures with proper protection from rot and termite attack. An ICC ESR would yield no additional or different use information than what is currently available for CA-C and Borate treated wood manufactured in accordance with AWPA standards.

- CA-C and Borate treated wood that has been processed per AWWA standards is inspected by an ALSC approved inspection agency. Treating plants that process CA-C or Borate treated wood that treat to AWWA standards are required to have an on-site quality control manager that individually inspects every production batch.

I hope the information enclosed is helpful. Please contact me if we can provide additional information.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Todd Schoffstoll".

Todd Schoffstoll
Western Regional Manager
Viance, LLC
704-340-3376 tschoffstoll@viance.net